NOT TO BE TRUSTED.

The Reno Journal does not like any part of the lately adopted state republican platform very well, but that portion of it advocating the election of state railroad commissioners by the people direct arouses its utter condemnation. The other day it said:

"Part of the republican platform declares that the members of the railroad commission of Nevada should be elected by the people. . . . That plank holds forth a promise to the Southern Pacific and all corporations coming within the scope of supervision of the railroad commission, that they may continue to exercise their baneful influence and continue to hold back, cripple and delay measures of good to the people, simply by concentrating their efforts on the election of the railroad commission."

To put the Journal's argument in the clearest light possible, the people are not to be trusted in the selection of the railroad commission. In other words, the people of Nevada are so venal and corrupt, that they would fall all over themselves trying to sell their votes to the Southern Pacific on election day. Truly, the democratic organ has a high opinion of the citizens of the state!

The argument of the Journal is neither honest, logical nor sound. In the first place, if the Southern Pacific found it necessary as a business proposition to gain control of the commission, a common sense view of the proposition would indicate that it would be an easier matter to dictate the make-up of the commission by controlling the appointing power—a mere matter of buying one man—than to buy up the suffrages of an entire state, where the purchase of several thousand men would be necessary. The people are trusted with the selection of their supreme court judges, their lawmakers, and all who constitute the machinery of government. Our form of government, our free institutions, are based on the presumption that they are equal to the task—and for something over a hundred years the have proven themselves fit for the responsibility. And now the Journal would have us believe that when it comes to choosing a railroad commission for the state of Nevada they are not to be trusted; that they would sell themselves to the first bidder that came along.

The Journal has not honored itself in holding so light an opinion of the citizenship of Nevada!

GAMBLERS FIGHT
ON PASSENGER TRAIN
LEAVING STATE

In a desperate quarrel between two Ely gamblers on the passenger train between Ely and Coble yesterday Richard Maxwell almost had one of his thumbs bitten off by Robert O'Conner, who is well known among the gambling fraternity in this city.

In spite of the fact that O'Conner had the thumb closely clenched between his teeth, Maxwell finally succeeded in releasing the injured member and afterwards beat O'Conner almost into insensibility, according to the statements of several passengers who returned last night.

The two men had been celebrating for several days since gambling was formally closed in this city and O'Conner developed an imaginary grudge against Maxwell through their recent association.

O'Conner is said to have started hostilities by inviting Maxwell to fight, and is also accused of having addressed obscene language at his adversary. Maxwell resented the insult and the two men became interlocked in a clinch.

Maxwell appeared to be more powerful than O'Conner as the uneven struggle progressed. Feeling that he was getting the worst of the contest, O'Conner managed to grab Maxwell's thumb, and would probably have done further damage had not several bystanders interfered and put a stop to the fight.

O'Conner was the aggressor at all stages of the quarrel, and by his constant bickerings finally forced Maxwell to fight with him. He attempted to start several scraps before his departure, and announced to a certain person that he was "well heeled." Both men were on their way to Ogden, where they expected to obtain positions in one of the gambling houses in that city.

Dr. George P. DeVine came over from Goldfield this morning.

HOW "PROTECTED" MEN LIVE

Two-thirds of the steel workers receive a wage no greater than $12 a week; only one-fifth receive more than $155. Let us see what a wage of $12 will do in Pittsburg. Fortunately we are able to draw upon Miss Byington's careful study of the budgets of 90 Homestead families. Thirty-two of these had less than $12 a week. Their average weekly expenditures were $9.18—or at the rate of $477.36 a year.

How do the families fare who spend from $12 to $15 a week? Miss Byington gives us the items for 16 families in this wage group, with an average total expenditure of $13.32, or a scant $700 a year. These families pay about $10 a month rent, but ten of them live with more than two persons to a room and only five have city water in the house. They pay on an average 24 cents per man per day for food, but four of the sixteen spend less than 22 cents. Clothing they buy at the rate of $81.64 a year. Fifty cents a week for insurance provides only for burial, should death occur. The only item that looks hopeful is the margin of $2.83 for all other expenditures. But the families in this group were not self-indulgent; 20 cents paid the weekly bill for liquor and tobacco, 47 cents went for medical service, 42 cents for furnishings and minor household expenses, leaving only $1.23 for car fare, papers, recreation, education and miscellaneous expenditures.

It is no wonder that some of these sixteen families reported but three cents a week for recreation—Survey.

J. Grant Crumley, who went to Goldfield yesterday afternoon, returned from the southern city this morning.

John McIntyre, of Blair, who spent the last three months visiting in Laramie, Wyoming, and Denver, returned to Tonopah today, and intends to either locate here or in his former home. Mrs. McIntyre remained in Laramie, where she is stopping with relatives.
